

Thank you
for bringing them hope!

Dear Friends,

In 2013, a volunteer for one of our Elderly Fall Prevention Roadshows invited Grandma Lo to do a fall risk assessment. After Grandma Lo was identified as being a high risk case, we provided some follow-up services, including installing handrails in her home and teaching her some rehabilitation exercises.

Grandma Lo improved so much that she later could walk around her neighbourhood even without the aid of a walking stick.

Here is what she said when we interviewed her: "HOPE worldwide really gave me hope!"

The heroes behind HOPE worldwide

We know it's the real heroes, the volunteers, donors, and supporters at HOPE worldwide, who gave her hope. Without you, we could not have served so many vulnerable elderly and underprivileged children across Hong Kong and China in 2013. They may not know your name, recognize who you are, but you truly brought "hope" to them.

The hope you brought to the elderly in 2013 meant...

They felt loved and cared for.

They could avoid falls that may devastate their health.

They had life-long wishes fulfilled.

The hope you brought to the underprivileged children in 2013 meant...

They could attend school.

They could strive for better learning skills.

They could build better character.

They could have positive experiences as they develop their potential.

Their families have the chance to break the cycle of poverty.

This annual report is a "shout-out" to all of you! Thank you. Let's do more!

2013 ANNUAL REPORT

ELDERLY

Helping the elderly age healthily and with dignity

Volunteers are integral to our Elderly Programme. Without the volunteers, elderly like Grandma Lo in the cover story could not have been reached. So whether you volunteered once or multiple times in our Fall Prevention and Fulfill a Wish Programmes or through the annual Volunteers for Seniors Day, thank you for bringing hope to the elderly by keeping them physically and emotionally healthy.

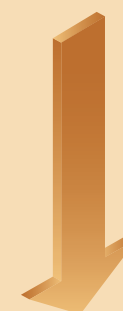

Volunteers bring hope and change the lives of Hong Kong's elderly.

Here is what you accomplished in 2013:

- 👍 3,033 volunteer instances throughout the year.
- 👍 1,827 elderly screened for fall risks in 16 roadshows. Elderly identified as high risk cases were provided with walking aids or had handrails installed at home or received home visits by occupational therapists.
- 👍 822 elderly visited on Volunteers for Seniors Day in January. 95% of the elderly visited felt happy and grateful for the service.
- 👍 124 wishes were fulfilled. These wishes included outings to Ocean Park and Disneyland, having reading glasses fitted, and singing and watching Cantonese opera.

We received over 2,000 entries for our second Lucky Bag Drawing Competition. Dreamergo, a local artist, helped us choose the overall winner.

A result of the follow-up services in the Fall Prevention Programme

Decrease in the prevalence rate of falls

YOUTH

Giving Hong Kong's youth financial knowledge and career-related guidance programmes

In 2013 the Citi Success Fund gave 89 mini-grants to secondary school teachers and social workers to implement proposals that helped Hong Kong's youth find their passions, aptitudes, and potential career paths. Thanks to a matching grant from the Partnership Fund for the Disadvantaged, we were able to serve students in 24 other schools. Altogether 7,771 secondary school students benefitted from the programmes and activities.

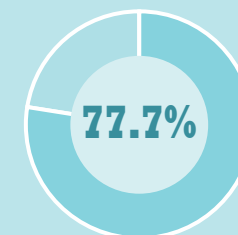

The Citi Success Fund Programme gave these young people the experience of running their own business.

The career-related guidance programmes helped the students find and develop their aptitudes, trained their interviewing skills, and brought in working professionals from different fields to share about possible career paths. Programmes aimed at increasing the students' financial knowledge gave them the opportunity to learn how to develop a budget and business plan for a small business idea.

The Citi Success Fund Programme helped thousands of secondary students find possible future career paths.

At the conclusion of the programmes

77.7% of the students could identify

- Key skills or
- Career interests

They could also complete

- A resume or
- Career plan

87.7% of the students could create and use

- A budget or savings plan or
- Business plan for a small business idea

CHILDREN (HONG KONG)

Giving children from low-income families the opportunity to reach their potential

In July of 2013 you fulfilled a dream for us. Your consistent support over the years allowed us to open an outreach centre in Yuen Long to serve needy children in the Tin Shui Wai area. Through our year-round academic enhancement and character-building programmes, the centres in Shek Kip Mei and Tin Shui Wai served 389 members and 802 additional children in the community. The frequency of participation in all the programmes and events reached a high of 9,905.

Children come to the Centre for Kids to learn, to play, to build character, and to form a supportive community around each other.

In our children's programme we focused on giving skills to help the kids reach their potential. Academically, the children learned to build six different skills, such as cognitive (focused when doing homework), behavioural (hands in homework on time), and time management (arranges time for revisions before exams) skills. On character-building, the children learned to develop positive behaviours related to the Six Pillars of Character, such as saying hello when meeting new friends, returning objects to where they belong, and showing respect to others.

Thank you for making the dream of serving the children of Tin Shui Wai come true!

In a pre and post survey, an average of

45.2% of students

experienced growth in all 6 skill areas

32.5% of students

demonstrated positive growth in all 14 behavioural areas

At the Centre for Kids, not only do the children get tutored, but they are also trained in important life skills.

CHILDREN (CHINA)

Helping rural and urban poor break the cycle of poverty by giving their children the gift of education

In 2013 your generosity sent 1,615 students in rural and urban areas in China's Hunan, Gansu, Guangdong, and Sichuan provinces to school. Regardless of whether these students had just started first grade or were preparing for the grueling gaokao (university entrance exam), each one of them represented hope for their families. Thank you for the gift of education that gave them hope.

Thanks to you, over 1,600 children in China continued their education in 2013.

Furthermore, because of your support, we now have six HOPE worldwide Centre for Kids in Chengdu, Guangzhou, and Kunming. These centres served 1,000 migrant workers' children in 2013. Much like the Centre for Kids in Hong Migrant children are also learning the Six Pillars of Character through our centre programmes.

Kong, the academic enhancement and character-building programmes provided the skills for the children to reach their potential and one day break the cycle of poverty.

You have a hand in breaking the cycle of poverty for China's rural and migrant children. Thank you!

1,615 students received tuition assistance

1,000 migrant children served in academic enhancement and character-building programmes in 6 Centres for Kids

Financials

Thanks to both existing and new donors, our financial picture in 2013 was a healthy one. When compared to 2012, our expenses rose by HK$148,322, which was slightly more than 1%, while income rose by HK$512,500, or nearly 4%. This resulted in a surplus that was nearly four times the surplus amount in 2012.

The increase in income came from the category of government and corporate grants. In 2013, in addition to existing corporate grants and donations, our Elderly Programme received new funds from two private foundations and one major corporation. Because of these donations, over 1,000 additional elderly received services such as fall risk assessments, fall prevention education, follow-up services by occupational therapists and having their wishes fulfilled. We are grateful and encouraged by the generosity of these donors. Because of them, more elderly in Hong Kong are ageing more healthily and with dignity. Thank you.

Our Centres for Kids in Chengdu also received needed funds to continue their services for migrant children in that city. In two instances the donation amounts were large enough to cover the cost of running the centre for an entire year. Again, we are more than grateful for the kindness and generosity of these donors.

HOPE worldwide (Hong Kong) 2013 Financial Statements

Income	HK$
Donations	7,978,654
Government and corporate grants	4,990,366
Programme fees	380,549
Interest / Other	38,058
	13,387,627

Use of Income	HK$
Service programmes	10,220,489
Fundraising and public education	1,706,229
Administration	989,340
	12,916,058

Surplus 471,569

On the expenses side, the increase came mostly from the category of fundraising and public education. These efforts contribute to our financial stability as well as visibility in the public, building credibility and attracting new supporters, with the eventual goal of serving more of those in need.

Thank you for giving us the opportunity to bring hope and change lives for another year.
