ANNUAL REPORT

Building a Better Future

Bringing hope, changing
lives

Dear Friends,

You hold in your hands HOPE worldwide's 2015 annual report – “Building a Better Future”.

With twenty years of experience behind us, we are confident that the core services in each of our programme areas are meeting some critical needs. We are also constantly trying out new and innovative ways to meet additional needs. For example, besides educating the elderly about fall prevention, can we help them take care of another aspect of their health as they age? It is not enough that a child learns good character. How do we get the whole family involved? We answer some of these questions with new initiatives which you will read about in the report.

So much of what we do is about building the future for those who presently lack the resources. For Hong Kong's single elderly, we are building their health so they can age with dignity. For children and youth from underprivileged backgrounds, we are building their academic skills and character so they can build better lives for themselves.

One thing is for certain--no one can build alone. To our donors, volunteers, ambassadors and advisors: Thank you for jumping in and building others' futures with us. A lot has been accomplished. But there is still much to do. We are confident that with your support, the future is looking bright.

New Initiatives in 2015

Dental Health Roadshows – Dentists, dental hygienists and dental students from the University of Hong Kong volunteered their time to educate the elderly about oral health. Total number of elderly served: 560

Fall Prevention Board Game – We developed a fun board game promoting the message of fall prevention to the public, especially to the elderly. Who doesn't like to have fun while they learn something new? Total number of people reached: 790

Youth

Preparing Hong Kong's underprivileged youth to enter the job market and build a career

In 2015, with a grant from The Moody's Foundation, we began the Youth Education and Career Exploration Programme. The programme provided youth from underprivileged families the preparation they need to enter the job market and build a brighter future.

Students were trained in the following 4 stages:

Personality Assessment – Using a Myers Briggs Type Indicator (MBTI) test, we helped youth understand themselves, thus empowering them to identify a possible inclination for their future career fields.

Understanding the Work Place – We arranged professionals from different industries to come and speak to students in small group settings. Company visits were also organized.

Life Exploration and Mapping – We helped students gain insights into their problem-solving skills and team-building and communication abilities by providing adventure-based activities.

Preparing for the Job Market – We equipped students with essential job-hunting skills, such as how to write a decent curriculum vitae and prepare for an interview. Interview skills training was provided prior to a mock interview. Employers or human resources professionals were invited to be guest speakers and gave tips, sharing the “dos and don’ts” with students.

Frequency of participation: 655

We will report outcomes from the first year's programme in the 2016 annual report.

Youth Success Programme – The initiative gave kids who have graduated from primary school the skills they need in order to succeed in secondary school. With the help of corporate volunteers, the kids took on projects that trained them in problem-solving, communication, and teamwork skills. Number of participants: 171

New Initiatives in 2015

Agricultural Livelihood and Education Support Programme (Gansu Province) – A grant was secured to provide eligible families in Huining County support to choose either a trading, farming, or husbandry project to bolster their incomes. Families are scheduled to receive capital grants, such as for an animal or for seeds or for training in a trade in 2016. Their children will also receive educational grants to ensure enrollment in schools.

Since this programme was only approved in late 2015, we will report on its progress and outcome in the 2016 annual report.

Financials

We are committed to building a solid organization with quality programmes and a healthy financial foundation. Overall income in 2015 exceeded that of 2014 by more than 1.2 million, a 9% increase. Nearly half of the increase came from individual donors, many acquired by the two teams of street fundraising ambassadors and the GoodTrekker and Great Santa Run fundraising events. These events both took place for the second year and drew more participants.

In addition, we also received two major grants. The Youth Education and Career Exploration Programme, funded by The Moody's Foundation, prepared youth to enter the job market. A grant from the Drs. Richard Charles & Esther Yewpick Lee Foundation benefited more elderly, especially in the area of fall prevention.

We remain committed to allocate as much resources as possible to direct services so needy elderly, youth, and children can benefit. Compared to 2014, though the uses of income remained relatively constant, rising by around HK$469,000, fifty percent of that increase went to programmes.
